PRESS: Classwide and Tier 2 Reading Interventions

Wednesday and Thursday, October 14 & 15, 2015

PRESS Project Staff; University of Minnesota Center for Reading Research

Description:

The Path to Reading Excellence in School Sites, or PRESS, is a framework that structures literacy achievement in elementary grades within a Response to Intervention (RTI) or multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) context. Developed through a research partnership at the Minnesota Center for Reading Research, University of Minnesota, the goal of PRESS is to work with educators to establish school-based systems and practices for all K-5 students to become capable readers. PRESS complements a school's literacy curriculum and can be used with a variety of assessment programs.

Join us for an in-depth training on the evidence-based PRESS framework for K-5 reading interventions. This workshop will introduce the PRESS data-driven decision making process, class wide and small group interventions, and progress monitoring, with opportunities for review and discussion of selected interventions

Workshop Objectives:

- be introduced to PRESS through an overview of the PRESS framework
- understand data-driven decision making using screening data
- learn when and how to deliver class wide interventions
- learn when and how to deliver targeted tier 2 interventions in phonemic awareness and phonics
- dig deeper into data-driven decision making regarding intervention effectiveness
- learn when and how to deliver targeted tier 2 interventions in phonics, fluency, and comprehension
- plan as a team for implementation of the PRESS framework.

Who should attend?

Classroom teachers, interventionists, reading specialists, school psychologists, coaches, and leaders. An administrator is strongly encouraged to attend with a team.
