The CESA 6 Effectiveness Project[®] Presents:

Induction Series for New Educators

Part of the Effective Learner Project

Primarily for educators in their first three years and/or EPICs, Mentors, or Coaches working with initial educators.

“The single greatest effect on student achievement is the effectiveness of the teacher.”
-Dr. Harry K. Wong, EdD

Overview

Hiring new teachers can be exciting! Finding the time to catch them up with all of your school initiatives, professional development trainings, and evaluation processes can be difficult. Aaron Olson and Ellie Olson, former school principals and current Effectiveness Project[®] Coordinators, will provide initial educators guidance on making all six EP standards visible in their classroom and in your school.

On August 12th, The Effective Learner Induction will kick-off with Dr. Harry K. Wong, EdD. and Dr. Rosemary T. Wong, EdD. in the morning. Initial educators will also receive their best-selling book, "The First Days of School". The afternoon will revolve around understanding the process and scoring of Student Learning Objectives (SLOs).

On August 18, participants will receive an in-depth overview of the Effectiveness Project[®] standards, forms, and expectations of an initial educator. The overview will include professional practice goal, self assessment, learner surveys, and strategies to make the standards and indicators visible during instruction.

The remaining two days, highlighted in the Timeline section of this brochure, have been strategically allocated to allow educators time, guidance, and support with components of the Effectiveness Project[®] responsibilities.

Harry is a former award-winning high school science teacher and has received the Horace Mann Outstanding Educator Award and the National Teachers Hall of Fame Lifetime Achievement Award.
