Effectiveness Project[®] Using Observations to Promote Continuous Improvement

Face-to-Face – December 1 & 15, 2015 (Janesville), February 25 & March 8, 2016 (CESA 6)
Online – January 6, 2016 (Janesville), April 6, 2016 (CESA 6)

Description

The 2014-15 Effectiveness Project audit data was clear - educators want meaningful observation data, feedback and coaching to improve their practice and grow their skills. This two-day course, with one online support session, will help evaluators and peer coaches to:

- Collect effective and efficient evidence during observations
- Focus and align evidence collection to school/district priority areas
- Practice evidence collection on sample lessons
- Use effective feedback strategies
- Learn efficient ways to provide feedback
- Use coaching to help educators grow in professional practice

Participants will:

- Get feedback from evidence collected at the school site
- Practice giving feedback on sample lessons
- Practice coaching with sample teachers

This training includes two face-to-face and one online meeting.

Workshop Objectives

Participants will leave with a deeper understanding of evidence collection, effective feedback and coaching for educator professional growth.

Who Should Attend

Evaluators and educators with the role of providing observational feedback around the Effectiveness Project Standards
