

Networking and Technical Assistance for Improving your Culturally Responsive Multi-Level System of Support

Description

Coaches, coordinators, and leaders of a Culturally Responsive Multi-Level System of Support are essential to improved learning outcomes for ALL students. These quarterly events are designed to help schools enhance and improve their implementation of a Culturally Responsive Multi-Level System of Support AND help further develop their leadership and coaching skills. These sessions are designed for districts and schools to select specific assistance around supports their system needs.

Intended audience

Rtl Coordinators, Rtl/Instructional Coaches, PBIS Internal Coaches, PBIS External Coaches, Administrators, Interventionists, and others who are directly involved with leading and coordinating efforts to implement a Culturally Responsive Multi-Level System of Supports. Completion of the School-wide Implementation Review (SIR), Benchmarks of Quality (BoQ) or Tiered Fidelity Instrument (TFI) is strongly recommended. Previous participation in the Wisconsin Rtl Center's Leadership & Coaching Training is recommended but not required.

What to bring

Topics will be chosen using the East Region Rtl Innovators Google Plus Community (<http://goo.gl/Wd2laO>) and topics and materials to bring will be sent to participants at least one week in advance.
