Monday, November 20, 2017

9:00am—11:30am

In this interactive workshop, participants will learn practical ways of supporting students with autism spectrum labels and other disabilities within a general education classroom. Topics addressed include defining (and redefining) autism, listening to the voices of those with autism, differentiating instruction, creating more active and responsive lessons, making the classroom comfortable, and providing opportunities for communication and social skill development. The session will focus on the importance of pushing beyond access and participation and asking schools to challenge students and to understand each learner as complex and capable. Topics covered in this session will include using interests to teach standards-based academic content, nurture social connections, minimize anxiety, and expand communication opportunities and skills.

ONLY $200.00 PER PERSON!

(FEE INCLUDES LIGHT BREAKFAST BOTH DAYS, LUNCH (DAY 1) AND BOOK)

(1) graduate credit will be available through Viterbo University upon receipt of additional registration form and tuition payment of $200.00 the day of the event.
