Engagement & Readiness: Predicting and Preparing for Success! (Secondary)

November 27, 2017 • 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Facilitator: Mary Ann Hudziak
CESA 6 Teaching and Learning Coordinator

Description

What does your data tell you about student engagement and college and career readiness? This workshop will help you identify what data may be helpful to identify success or predict possible areas of concern. The next step is the most important – what strategies are effective for increasing or enhancing student engagement? What strategies are effective for preparing students for college and career readiness? Investigate how recent instruction and organizational changes may have impacted current data. Find out what other districts are doing and their interpretation of the impact. Bring your engagement and readiness team to maximize the effectiveness of this workshop.

Key Goals

- Determine what available data can be used to measure student engagement and college & career readiness
- Explore and investigate effective strategies
- Plan for your ideal vision
- Determine an evaluation method
- Network with other districts.

Who should attend?

District data and/or curriculum planning teams; which may include curriculum and instruction coordinator, teacher team leaders, school counselors, special education teachers, English language learning teachers, building administrators or department lead teachers.
