IMPROVING THE ACCURACY OF IDENTIFICATION OF ELLS WITH DISABILITIES

November 15, 2019 | 8:30 AM - 3:00 PM (lunch provided)

SPECIAL GUEST PRESENTER: LYNN SHAFER WILLNER, PH.D., CPACC

Cultural and linguistic differences sometimes make it more difficult for school teams to discern the difference between normal process of second language acquisition and a possible learning difficulty. As the cultural and linguistic diversity of U.S. schools continues to increase, school psychologists are frequently called upon to guide school teams as they analyze student data, interact with parents, and develop intervention plans. Come build your professional toolkit as we discuss common ELL student profiles along with guiding questions for data analysis, facilitation questions for referral meetings, and next steps for student support.
