| Audience | Educators and family members committed to developing and maintaining strong school-family-community partnerships. School and district leadership teams are encouraged to attend. No special background needed. This training is open to all Wisconsin school communities. | |
| Presenter | Judy Conlin and Kara Van Vooren are REACH Project-Level Trainers for the REACH Initiative. | |
| Description | Family involvement is key to planning, organizing, implementing, and evaluating high quality educational programs. This introductory training will help participants increase their awareness of how effective partnership practices can improve student achievement and behavior. Joyce Epstein's Six Components of Successful Family, School, and Community serve as the foundation of the training. Participants complete a "quality indicators" checklist for their school and brainstorm specific ideas and projects to promote the effective family and community involvement. | |
