CESA 5 presents

Improving Relationships & Results

Building Family-School Partnerships

A set of three-one day workshops for parents, teachers, principals and administrators

Module #1: Behavioral Strategies for Parents

Using a variety of behavioral strategies, parents will learn proactive ways to deal with their children, address behavior concerns and improve family relationships in the home.

Michele Yates-Wickus, CESA 5 Coordinator for Alternative Schools, will guide parents and school team members through a process that will provide them with a general knowledge of why children may exhibit specific behavioral concerns. Being able to determine this helps in developing and implementing guidelines in the home to assist parents in dealing with sometimes difficult children. (Indicators #4, #8; Teacher Standard #5)

Presenter: Michele Yates-Wickus, Assistant Director of Special Education, CESA 5; Coordinator of Alternative Programs

Northern Location:

Mon., Sept. 20, 2010
Bliss Center
Stevens Point
9:00 am-3:00 pm

OR

Southern Location:

Fri., Sept. 17, 2010
CESA #5
Portage
9:00 am-3:00 pm

Module #2: Homework Help for Parents and Staff

What a great partnership, parents and schools! When the two work together, children will benefit and demonstrate increased progress. School teams are invited to attend with parents to learn the concerns parents have about homework as the two groups find out how homework can be used as a powerful learning tool that both parents and schools can use to help students succeed. (Indicators #3, #8; Teacher Standard #10)

Presenters: Karen Lietzow, Project Director, Regional Service Network (RSN), Brenda Yager & Martha DeYoung, CESA 5/WSPEI Parent Coordinators
