Personalized Learning Network

CESA 8

The Stage

The Innovation Lab Network engages schools, districts, and state education agencies working to identify new designs for public education that empower each individual student to thrive as a productive learner, worker, and citizen. The Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO) facilitates this network of states, which includes California, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, West Virginia, and Wisconsin, to support programmatic, policy, and structure design work within each participating state and across the network. Source: CESA 1 - The Institute
