The August 3rd workshop is intended to prepare evaluators of teachers for Fall 2015 calibration. Participants will spend the morning watching, discussing, and scoring videos as a group as a means to refresh and/or deepen their understanding of the observable Domains in the Danielson Framework for Teaching. The learning activities will be completed by lunchtime and participants can use the afternoon to complete the calibration videos that have been assigned by their home district.

The December 9th workshop is intended to prepare evaluators of teachers for Spring 2016 calibration. Participants will spend the first part of the afternoon watching, discussing, and scoring videos as a group as a means to refresh and/or deepen their understanding of the observable Domains in the Danielson Framework for Teaching. Once the learning activities are completed, participants can use the rest of the afternoon to begin/complete the calibration videos that have been assigned by their home district.

Note for both events: Participants will need to bring a device to access and complete the calibration videos and earphones.
