

Project: Sound the ALARMS!

(Adolescent Literacy Achievement Requires Multi-level Support!)

Project Director:
Lisa Arneson, M.S., NBCT

Year 1, 2010-2011
Comprehension Focus

Professional Development Offerings

Fall Institute

November 12 and 13/December 3 and 4, 2010

Doug Buehl

Fridays 5-9 PM; Saturdays 9AM-3PM: This training will feature Doug Buehl sharing practical and valuable approaches to higher level thinking. Applicable in any secondary classroom, participants will find multiple tools to encourage deeper comprehension in any subject. Easy, practical and hands on. You will definitely have new tools to take back to your classroom on Monday morning! This training will be held at the Reedsburg School District Administration Building. Register for Workshop # 989 Limited to 30 spots.

Spring Workshop

February 19, 2011

Jeff Wilhelm

9AM-3PM—Jeff Wilhelm will spend the day focusing on Inquiry strategies to promote student reading and discussion. He will lead participants through the process of asking essential questions to frame instruction, ways to frontload, and designs for culminating projects. Be ready to take an existing unit and reframe it in a new way, and facilitate cognitive apprenticeship in your classroom. This training will be held on campus at UW-Stevens Point in the College of Professional Studies Building. Register for Workshop # 990

Events are made possible by a Wisconsin Improving Teacher Quality Grant and are free to Project Sound the ALARMS! Participants. Please register at www.myquickreg.com.

Questions? Call or email Doug Shanks at 608-742-8814 x305 or assessment@cesa5.k12.wi.us

