Routines Based Interview (RBI) is a process for looking at children's natural environment to learn what supports they need to become more independent and engaged and to have improved social relationships. This interactive training will include demonstration and feedback. By the end of the training learners will be able to:

- Explain purposes and benefits of RBI to colleagues and families/caregivers
- List the 3 foundations of learning and how they relate to completing the RBI
- Identify all RBI components
