

Drama Troupe Training

February 1-2, 2011

CESA 6 AODA Education Network and Cornerstone Productions

Together, CESA 6 and Cornerstone Productions are offering a two day training sessions for new troupes. Your students will be guided through a creative process that helps them build performance skills, bond as a team, and create moving, entertaining skits designed to be presented in your schools and community. They will learn the basics of building a character, improvising short scenes, and effectively staging them. Skits and live presentations, when implemented effectively, can be a powerful tool.

We are offering peer education drama workshops and trainings for middle and high school students, helping them to create custom-designed skits on topics which they (and you) select. Subject matter for scene development can be as varied as the groups that create them—from date rape to head lice, from bullying to puberty.
