

Get Ready for WOW 2016-17

Working on the Work (WOW) is an annual, 4-part, FREE training series designed specifically for school-based teams of educators to deepen understanding, achieve consensus, and build success strategies for local implementation of Educator Effectiveness. The 2016-17 WOW lineup of speakers includes top-tier leaders in education, offering your team access to some of the best minds in our field. FREE!

Read what WI educators are saying about Wisconsin's most comprehensive, BEST professional development series & stay tuned for registration information!*

Learn from the Best:

Eric Twadell

Eric Twadell (Aug 18 & 19, 2016) As a highly dedicated Professional Learning Community (PLC) practitioner, Eric works with organizations and schools at the national level to achieve school improvement and reform.

Chris Jakicic (Oct 10 & 11, 2016) Chris is a national leader in using data conversations to interpret classroom information for effective instruction. She emphasizes effective teaming as the heart of effective PLCs.

Chris Jakicic

"WOW provides a lens for our District Leadership Team to plan PD and other offerings for staff."

— Tom Malmstadt, District Administrator, Random Lake School District

Tim Brown

Tim Brown (Jan 31 & Feb 1, 2017) Twenty-eight years of experience has positioned Tim as an expert in helping schools develop collaborative learning environments and PLCs that lead to higher achievement for students.

Mike Mattos (Apr 26 & 27, 2017) Mike is an internationally known practitioner, author, presenter who specializes in uniting school communities to transform schools through response to intervention and PLCs.

Mike Mattos

"We've implemented several new strategies and will continue to use WOW learning to improve practice."

— Karisa Van Caster, 1st grade teacher, Lac du Flambeau School District

"WOW has provided lots of ideas for staff activities and helped us better understand how to ask questions and improve communication and collaboration."

— Tim Widiker, St. Croix Central School District

High praise for WOW!

"WOW sessions provide valuable time to reflect and plan our action steps for moving forward."

— Jennifer Klimek, High School Science Teacher and EE Coach, Wausaukee School District

"Collaboration within our district team has helped us share ideas, examine our practices, and sharpen our focus."

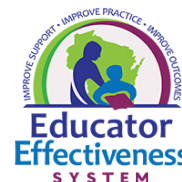

— Gary Pszeniczny, Principal, Altoona School District

"WOW helps keep me grounded and reminds me to continuously reflect on my current practices and work."

— Jennifer Peterson, Director of Academic Services, River Falls School District

SAVE THE DATES!

* Registration for 2016-17 WOW will be handled by your local CESA.