Overview

“The children of our future will not need our traditional school system to obtain knowledge, so if our educational system is to continue to exist this will occur only if they have the ability to create relationships and guide the learning process.” (Ian Jukes)

The Leading for the Future program was established in the fall of 2009 for dynamic and innovative building leaders who were seeking a venue through which they could enhance their leadership knowledge, skills, and abilities; as well as, improve their capacity to create positive relationships and guide the learning process for today. Based on a survey conducted at the end of this initial five session leadership development program, the Leading for the Future program accomplished its objectives and more. More than 90% of the participants indicated that the Leading for the Future program fulfilled its purpose and their expectations around leadership development and that it enhanced their personal leadership capacity. Ninety percent of these building leaders also stated that they would recommend this program to their colleagues and that they looked forward to participating in this program in 2010-11. Additional comments pertaining to the Leading for the Future program were:

“Thank you for offering the Leading for the Future program, it gave me the opportunity to reflect why I started out in education.”

“I learned a great deal about being an effective school leader.”

“Great program, the discussion was lively and on topic each time.”

“The speakers were thought provoking and the networking with administrators from other districts was invaluable”

Dates

Recognizing that it is difficult for all of the approximately 285 building administrators in CESA 6 to leave your building to attend this session, CESA 6, for the 2010-2011 school year, will be offering Leading for the Future in its traditional presentation model, but we will also offer administrators an opportunity to purchase a member's only access to a web video of this session that will be accessible on the CESA 6 website shortly after the actual event. Building leaders who choose to access and observe the session from the CESA 6 website will be notified shortly after the session as to when they can access this member's only site and observe the session.

Cost for this on site session only or the web site video only is $75.00

Featured Presenters:

Deb Kneser & Cheryl Simonson

CESA 6 Coordinators of Teaching and Learning

As building administrators you are aware that the Common Core Standards in Language Arts and Mathematics have been adopted in Wisconsin. They are presently being rolled out to districts by the DPI and CESAs. As a leader, do you really understand what your role will be in regard to these Common Core Standards both now and in the future? The Building Leadership Capacity segment of our January 11th program will provide a greater insight and understanding to both your present and future role in implementing the Common Core Standards to build a standards-based learning climate in your school.
