Non Violent Crisis Intervention Refresher Course

Thursday, Sept. 29, 2016 – 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Presenter: Diane Braker
NVCi Coordinator

Description

Educators recognize the need for timely, effective nonviolent intervention with students who exhibit challenging behaviors. They know that such intervention improves the physical safety of all participants and creates a more trusting and caring learning environment.

Anyone who may have to manage verbally or physically aggressive individuals will benefit from the review of skills and techniques learned in Nonviolent Crisis Intervention. The content of this workshop addresses the Act 125 requirements regarding the appropriate use of seclusion and restraint.

Workshop objectives

- Identify the potential for violent or disruptive behaviors.
- Reduce tensions.
- Learn to prevent violent episodes.
- Intervene safely in violent situations.
- Develop safe humanistic approaches to crisis intervention.
- Improve staff confidence and boost morale.
- Learn techniques to provide optimum care for individuals.
- Identify the new requirements regarding the use of seclusion and restraint in Wisconsin.

Who should attend?

Regular and special education professionals working with students with challenging behaviors, including teachers, paraprofessionals, principals, school counselors, social workers, psychologists and other educational specialists.

Prerequisite

Attendance at a NVCi Initial Training within the last 18 months.
