Description

In this 3-session workshop series, classroom teachers, special education and English Language Learner (ELL) teachers will learn specific ways to partner across the Reading Workshop block to maximize programming for all students, but especially for ELL and those students with Individual Education Plans (IEP). This workshop series will be a good fit for participants who are charged with meeting the needs of ELLs and students with IEPs in a Reading Workshop model.

Session topics by date:

Session 1 (Jan. 12th): Co-Teaching Formats to Meet IEP / Language Goals

Session 2 (Apr. 3rd): Collaborating and Co-planning to Support Readers

Session 3 (May 2nd): Engaging Diverse Learners during Reading Workshop and Beyond

Workshop series objectives

Participants will learn to:

- Strategically use effective co-teaching formats.
- Maximize strategies for collaboration and communication.
- Set students up for high success: before the mini-lesson starts, across the workshop block, and throughout the layers of support.
- Implement language supports for ELLs.
- Apply culturally responsive and family engagement practices.

Who should attend?

Teams of classroom teachers, ELL/bilingual teachers, special education teachers, literacy coaches, special education directors and principals.
