

CESA #2 Networking Opportunity...

Building Capacity and Sustainability for a Response to Intervention System

May 4, 2011

12:30-3:30 P.M.

CESA #2 Conference Center
1221 Innovation Drive, Room 111
Whitewater, WI 53190

"The work of educational leaders is to encourage local experiments, to watch for and nourish supportive beliefs and dynamics, and to sponsor faculty and staff to connect with all the kindred spirits now working in isolation. This is how we intentionally work with emergence to create the future we desire.

Emergence has a life cycle. In each stage, connections become stronger and interactions more numerous and diverse. It begins with networking, connecting people who are often so busily engaged in their own efforts that they have no idea what's happening outside their building or district. Often, simply discovering you're not alone offers a huge boost to morale."

From: Margaret Wheatley: How Large Scale Change Really Happens

Target Audience: Administrative leaders: Superintendents, Principals, Curriculum Directors, Pupil Services Directors, other leaders

Let's get together and ensure that you all have the support needed to sustain efforts in your district and schools.

The main activities will be:

- Districts share RtI experiences that can serve as recommendations or warnings to colleagues
- Networking conversations addressing common concerns-see below for ideas

Educators experienced with RtI and who have attended recent RtI events report an ongoing interest in more dialogue about the following:

*Differentiated Instruction support for teachers
Effective Interventions
Common Core State Standards and RtI
How to implement RtI in Middle and High Schools
Assessment tools
Using data effectively for instruction
SLD criteria and it's impact on schoolwide RtI
How to work at district level to support schools.*
