Description:

Districts across the nation are taking the Future Ready Schools Pledge. What does that mean? Learn about the seven gears and how they work together with the WI Digital Learning Plan. Bring your leadership team to learn how to apply the framework to your local context to build your future ready schools!

Making Sense of the Data

- From survey to action
- Focus teams on gears
- Formulating next steps

Beth Clarke is an innovative educator, joining CESA 2 this year from the Madison Metropolitan School District. Beth's passion lies in digital leadership. She loves working with districts and teachers to unleash potential by leveraging digital tools and resources. Beth earned her Undergraduate degree in Art Education and her Graduate degree in Instructional Technology from UW-Whitewater.

Additionally, she has procured her Education Administration licenses for Principalship and Director of Curriculum and Instruction from Edgewood College. She has a love of learning and applying new strategies to classroom opportunities, professional learning, and presentations.
