Paula Kluth Presents:

Joyful Learning: Using Active & Collaborative Structures to Differentiate Instruction

Dr. Paula Kluth is a consultant, advocate, and independent scholar. She consults across the country and around the world with school districts on differentiating instruction, active learning, co-teaching, and inclusive schooling. She has been an education professor at Syracuse University, an adjunct instructor at National Louis University, a special education teacher, and an inclusion facilitator. She is the author or co-author of ten books including Joyful Learning: Active and Collaborative Learning in the Inclusive Classroom; From Tutor Scripts to Talking Sticks: 100 Ways to Differentiate Instruction in K-12 Inclusive Classrooms and You're Welcome: 30 Innovative Ideas for the Inclusive Classroom.

Too often a “one-size-fits-all” approach is used to design lessons leaving some learners struggling to participate and leaving teachers feeling they have not reached all of their students. In this interactive session, participants will apply principles of differentiation by exploring a number of collaborative, active, and brain-compatible learning techniques aimed at engaging students and making learning joyful. Participants will learn alternatives to lecture as well as ways to make whole-class instruction more motivating. The 2-day workshop will include video clips, “make and take” materials, simulations, and opportunities for brainstorming and planning. The session is appropriate for teachers of grades 5-12 and is structured for participants to experience active techniques through demonstration. Teams of teachers and their principals are encouraged to attend.
