

Student-engaged Assessment

"Student-engaged assessment changes the primary role of assessment from evaluating and ranking students to motivating them to learn. It builds the independence, critical thinking skills, perseverance, and self-reflective understanding students need for college and careers..." - Ron Berger.

This workshop offers educators the tools to transform assessment practices into a collaborative practice with students. Learn how to use learning targets as an anchor to your lessons and the language of your students. We will discover how student-engaged assessment practices support the development of reflective learners who can advocate for their learning needs.

Participants will have supported planning time to implement their new learning into classroom practice. They will also receive a copy of the book Leaders of Their Own Learning.

When: February 27, 2018

Time: 8:30am—3:30pm

Who: K-12 teachers, instructional coaches, and directors of curriculum

Where: CESA 9, Tomahawk

Cost: $125.00/person for SI members
$225.00/person for non-SI members
Includes lunch and materials

Contact: Mia Chmiel

mchmiel@cesa9.org

Register here:

<http://bit.ly/C9engaged>

