Description:

Engage Every Family: Five Simple Principles is a must-read. It shatters the myth that many families are elusive and cannot be engaged in their children's learning. Dr. Steven Constantino, a practicing superintendent and one of the nation's leading thought leaders on family engagement, has a passion for and an expertise in this topic and takes the reader on a journey full of practical information while providing a framework, process, and prescription for success. Steven speaks directly to the reader and combines case studies, stories, ideas, and humor to motivate you to action. The time has come in education to harness the most influential teachers of students: their families. Steven Constantino will show you how to do just that.

The book study will be facilitated by Carlene Chavez, CESA 2 Family Engagement Coordinator. It is sponsored by CESA 2 in conjunction with WSPEI. We will meet via Zoom (or your phone) for 4 convenient sessions. Books will be mailed to attendees. Book study will be limited to the first 20 registrations.
