

CULTIVATING INDEPENDENCE IN READING WORKSHOP

2018 SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR GRADES K-8

PRESENTED BY THE LITERACY CENTER

JUNE 26, 27, AND 28, 2018 • 8:30 A.M. – 3 P.M. • OSHKOSH, WI

JOIN US FOR ONE DAY, TWO DAYS, OR ALL THREE DAYS OF LEARNING!

Jan Burkins and Kim Yaris are the writers and thinkers behind Think Tank for 21st Century Literacy. With 50 combined years of education experience, they are passionate about helping teachers navigate, understand, and implement standards-based instruction without sacrificing their inner teacher. Jan and Kim work with schools facilitating professional learning, conducting in-class demonstrations, and developing curriculum. Their publications include Who's Doing the Work?: How to Say Less so Readers Can Do More and Reading Wellness: Lessons in Independence and Proficiency.

JAN BURKINS AND KIM YARIS

JUNE 26, 2018: 8:30 A.M. – 3 P.M.

WHO'S DOING THE WORK? HOW TO SAY LESS SO READERS CAN DO MORE

What is the “next generation” thinking for read aloud, shared reading, guided reading, and independent reading? Simple adjustments to instruction can lead to powerful shifts in student engagement and empower students to become better readers. Interactive presentation, video recordings and discussion will help participants make connections which will empower students to develop efficient reading processes and enthusiasm for reading. Participants will:

- Dig into each instructional context and consider the ways conventional and “next generation” reading differ.
- Take a close look at teacher language and consider simple adjustments teachers can make to promote student agency.
- Explore gradual release of responsibility and what that teaching looks like.

GRAVITY GOLDBERG

JUNE 27, 2018: 8:30 A.M. – 3 P.M.

MINDSETS AND MOVES, STRATEGIES THAT HELP READERS TAKE CHARGE

Gravity will share structures and strategies that work with curriculum, to help readers take charge. She will show us the way forward, which lies in admiring, studying, and really getting to know your students. Easily replicable in any setting, any time, her “4 Ms” framework ultimately lightens your load because it allows students to monitor and direct their reading lives. Participants will learn to be a: • Miner: Uncover Students’ Reading Processes • Mirror: Give Feedback That Reinforces a Growth Mindset • Model: Show Readers What We Do • Mentor: Guide Students to Try New Ways of Reading.

Gravity Goldberg supports school districts, specializing in literacy, special education, curriculum, assessment, and learning with technology. Gravity taught in inclusive elementary classrooms, self-contained special education settings, and worked as a PK-12 reading specialist. As a staff developer at Teachers College Reading and Writing Project, she modeled lessons and created curricula. Gravity authored Mindsets and Moves, Strategies That Help Readers Take Charge, and co-authored Conferring with Readers, and What Do I Teach Readers Tomorrow?

KATE ROBERTS

JUNE 28, 2018: 8:30 A.M. – 3 P.M.

DIY LITERACY: TEACHING TOOLS FOR DIFFERENTIATION, RIGOR, AND INDEPENDENCE

Kate will show us how to make visual teaching tools and to use our teaching smarts to get the most from those tools. Maximize your instructional know-how by using the tools to: make reading and writing strategies stick; motivate students to reach for their next learning goal; and, differentiate instruction simply and quickly. Kate will offer experience-honed advice for using the tools for assessment, small-group instruction, conferring, setting learning goals, and, most important, helping students think strategically to become DIY learners.

Kate Roberts offers concrete solutions to tough situations and strong curricular, pedagogical and personal support of teachers and students. She taught elementary thru high school in Brooklyn, NY, focusing on strategy-based literacy instruction, literacy across the content areas, and differentiated teaching methods. Kate worked as a literacy coach before joining the Teachers College Reading and Writing Project. She is co-author of Falling in Love with Close Reading and of DIY Literacy: Teaching Tools for Differentiation, Rigor, and Independence.
