

Orientation to Mentoring

The CESA 9 Orientation to Mentoring, a foundation training for all Wisconsin mentors, is a one day workshop which gives participants an overview of the ten teacher standards, the PDP, needs of beginning teachers, observing and conferencing, and linguistic skills training such as active listening, paraphrasing, clarifying, etc. Participants will also learn strategies from Elena Aguilar's book "Onward: Cultivating Emotional Resilience". This Orientation to Mentoring will support mentors in their important role in working with beginning teachers, regardless of the local induction program. Each mentor receives a certificate of completion.

Audience: Mentors nominated by district or teachers with an interest in expanding best practices and the profession of teaching through professional development and coaching.
