

NEW TEACHER INSTITUTE:

Using the Standards of Effective Educators to Engage and Support New Teachers

Take control of your year before it starts and be ready to enjoy the roller coaster!

This two-day workshop presents strategies, tips, and suggestions for getting through the first few weeks, the first few months, and the entire year. We will focus on the standards of effective educators to hone in on instructional planning and preparation; creating and promoting a positive classroom environment; establishing a positive culture within the classroom and the school; developing relationships with all stakeholders; grading, assessment, and feedback; and engaging all students through lesson delivery, project-based learning, personalized learning, and student voice and choice.
