

Maximizing Leadership Coaching Series

Designed for New-to-the-Field Principals with Five
Years or Less of Experience

This series is designed for and supports principals in their first five years of experience and will engage participants in strategies built around research based best practice to maximize their impact as a building leader. At the same time, leaders who attend will build a network with others to promote sharing and problem-solving.

The Maximizing Leadership Coaching Series is partially grant funded (CESA 9's Peer Review and Mentoring Grant) and includes: ten hours of individualized coaching that is provided in a combination of on-site and virtual sessions, three face-to-face half day morning sessions at CESA 9 and three 45 minute virtual sessions through-out the school year. Participants will also receive a copy of Michael Fullan's "The Principal: Three Keys to Maximizing Impact".
