Catch Them Early...Watch Them Grow!

DESCRIPTION:

This 4-part training series teaches participants how to conduct a simple and efficient FBA for students with mild to moderate behavioral problems in a school setting. The average time to complete the practical FBA process for 1 student is 97 minutes. Information from the practical FBA will assist school teams in developing effective behavioral supports that

- prevent intensive problem behaviors from occurring
- teach alternative behaviors &
- effectively respond when problem behaviors occur

Participants will learn how to conduct interviews and observations to precisely determine the relationship between student problem behavior and the context, including WHAT the problem behaviors are & WHEN, WHERE, & WHY problem behaviors occur.

The practical FBA training is designed as a PBIS Tier 2 support for use with students who exhibit consistent behaviors that

- are not dangerous (e.g., talking out, running, not following directions, not completing work)
- occur in 1 to 2 school routines (e.g., specific classrooms/ activities, lunch, recess)
- have not been adequately addressed through previous assessment and intervention

FACILITATORS:

Marj Pertzborn, MS-PBIS Coordinator & Special Education Consultant
Paula Dabel, MS-Special Education Consultant, NVC I Trainer, PBIS Consultant

TARGET AUDIENCE:

The practical FBA training series is designed to train school-based personnel with flexible roles (i.e., personnel not directly responsible for providing regular instruction for students), including PBIS coaches, behavior specialists, psychologists, special education teachers, guidance counselors, and program support teachers.

WHAT TO BRING:

- 3-ring binder with 5 dividers
- Laptop

When used early for students identified at-risk for serious behavioral problems, practical FBA methods may prevent the escalation of student behaviors that, if left untreated, may require more intrusive methods.
