

Reading Teacher Network

Title Teachers/Interventionists often have a unique role in school districts, with leadership responsibilities ranging in literacy expert, Rtl, interventions, and leadership. Join CESA 9 in a network series aimed at developing a professional learning community just for teachers of reading.

These sessions will support:

- Sharing and reviewing research and resources around assessments and instructional practices in literacy
- Capacity-building in designing and implementing Title I programming within an equitable, multi-level system of support
- Resources for creating schools that engage families in literacy
