

CESA 6 Social Emotional Learning Center

The SEL Center exists to maximize positive outcomes for kids. Positive outcomes for kids rests on our ability to hear, understand, and respond to our stakeholder's voices. We work to capture each stakeholder's voice in order to promote high impact strategies and high levels of engagement.

So Now What? Developing and Implementing Behavioral Interventions in the Face of the Covid-19 Pandemic

NOVEMBER 17, 2020 | 9:00 AM—3:30 PM

Educators are currently confronted with a set of demands for which we have never been taught to address. These fall on the continuum of face to face teaching with social distancing requirements to total distance learning.

THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC HAS INTRODUCED NEW ISSUES WE NEED TO BE ADDRESS:

- Students refusing or unable to meet the mask requirements
- Social distancing expectations
- Engaging in Covid-sensitive behaviors as part of an aggressive stance (eg. spitting at someone)
- Anxiety and/or trauma-related reactions to the situation

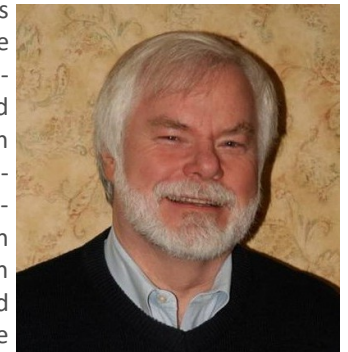

THIS WORKSHOP WILL EXPLORE THESE ISSUES ALONG WITH:

- Discussion of more traditional Tier II & Tier III behavioral interventions
- Applying behavioral interventions within in-school and from distance learning approaches
- The Peer Triad model will also be discussed; this model facilitates the provision of teacher feedback

SPECIAL GUEST PRESENTER:

Dr. Richard Van Acker

Dr. Richard Van Acker is an emeritus professor of special education at the University of Illinois-Chicago. His research explores the development and treatment of antisocial behavior in children and school-based intervention with students who present emotional, behavioral, and mental health disorders. Rick actively consults with school districts across the nation and serves as a special consultant with the school boards of seven states. His work has been presented in over 100 published articles, monographs, book chapters and books.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This training is designed for regular and special educators, school psychologists, school counselors, behavior interventionists, PBIS coaches/interventionists, RTI coaches/interventionists, administrators or other school personnel involved in designing and implementing SEL and Mental Health EMLSS for students with increasing levels of emotional and behavioral needs.
