Join teachers, teacher leaders, coaches and administrators to read, reflect and engage in dialogue on coaching for equity.

Educational equity means there is no predictability of success or failure that correlates with any social or cultural factor – a child's educational experiences or outcomes are not predictable because of their race, ethnicity, linguistic background, economic class, religion, gender, sexual orientations, physical and cognitive ability or any other socio-political identity marker.

Coaching for Equity, by Elena Aguilar, offers extensive strategies for talking about race, power, and systems of oppression. This book study explores strategies, tools and models for critical conversations.

Book Study participants will develop the knowledge, dispositions and skills to be able to:

- Talk productively about race
- Build trust to support vulnerability
- Unpack mental models and change someone's mind
- Observe classrooms and collect data to support equitable outcomes
- Inspire others and deepen commitment
- Evaluate and celebrate growth.
