

Leading and Learning: The Power of the 100 Day Plan

December 1, 2020 @ 8:00-11:00 AM (Virtual)

Presenter: Dr. Colleen A. Timm, Director of Learning Services

---

The purpose of the 100-Day Plan is to create a roadmap for making improvements in the organization, providing a clear directional map of the necessary action steps, timeline, people responsible for assignments, and the success indicators. It strengthens the collective commitment to the work and moves topics of discussion to action steps and then to fulfillment, creating a clarifying record of the prioritized changes that are critical to improving staff and student performance.

Participants will chart a course to maximize student academic growth outcomes by resetting their “why”, reclaiming their purpose, reframing challenges as opportunities, and recommitting to their collective commitments. In doing so, they will design a new and equitable learning legacy for students.

Outcomes:

- Identify and set goals and objectives, broken out at intermediate milestones
- Create a plan for measuring goals and tracking success
