

Defining Ready: The Head, the Heart, the Courage

December 16, 2020 @ 8:30-9:30 AM

Presenters: Dr. Colleen A. Tiim, Director of Learning Services
Dr. Marci Kuhn, Readiness Specialist

“I have a feeling we’re not in Kansas anymore.” In the movie class, The Wizard of Oz, Dorothy observes the changing landscape and surmises that she is not in Kansas anymore. Today, we can look out at the PK-12 landscape and see the changing landscape around us. Educators can feel ill-equipped to tackle the growing challenges and demands in front of them, but the power of the Redefining Ready metrics paired with Academic and Career Planning can help educators discover the knowledge, the heart, and the courage they have always had to uncover student gifts and talents, and move the needle on student achievement.
