Identifying Potential Giftedness in English Learners

DESCRIPTION:

With the sharp rise in students who are Multilingual learners (MLLs), research on identifying and serving the needs of gifted and talented (GT) MLL students offers fertile ground for best practice guidelines. This webinar highlights the theoretical and practical barriers to identifying and teaching GT MLLs effectively. These include instructional support, assessment practices, and staff challenges.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR:

Robin Rivas has worked as a teacher and administrator for 34 years with culturally and linguistically diverse populations. Robin is a certified ESL teacher and administrator who is bilingual (Spanish/English). She did her undergraduate work at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee where she majored in education (ESL). Subsequently, she received a master's degree in curriculum and instruction, with an emphasis on multicultural education from UWM. Robin has recently received her Ed.D in curriculum, instruction, and assessment from Walden University with a research focus on RTI and English Learners.
