- Developing plans to support the transition back
- Opportunities to collaborate with others systems from around Wisconsin
- Time for you or your team to reflect and plan for the 2021-2022 school year
- Strategies to propel and empower a positive culture for kids
- Significant opportunities to learn new techniques for growing your leadership

KEYNOTE: Dr. Tim Hodges, the Executive Director of the Clifton Strengths Finder Institute and Faculty member at the University of Nebraska, will speak to us about the strategies needed to successfully engage and empower our staff as we head into the 2021-2022 school year.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: All in education. This is a great opportunity for you and your teams to be together in an outdoor and highly energetic setting. The conference is designed for teams to work together after acquiring new knowledge and have plenty of time to enjoy each others' ideas and company. Team-building activities will be part of each day and all will be highly engaged throughout the two days.

IDEA: This conference is designed for adult learners with food, music and socialization as a key component of the time we are together. You will not be sitting at a table for hours - instead, you will be enjoying time learning, growing and actively collaborating.
