You're a new associate principal, now what?

Join us for our New Associate Principal Network. This network is a great opportunity for new administrators to continue to grow in professional practice, enhance leadership skills, network with other new administrators, and help connect the work. These sessions will include:

- Professional learning around hot topics.
- Building a culture of professional collaboration.
- Tools for practical application to bring back to your school.
- Developing relationships with staff, students, and parents.

Included in this network are individual check-ins and coaching sessions designed to meet your individual needs.
