

CESA₆
LANGUAGE & CULTURE

COLLABORATING WITH MULTILINGUAL FAMILIES

2023

NOVEMBER 30

9:00 AM - 3:00 PM

FACILITATOR

Lori Menning | EL, Bilingual-Bicultural, World Language Consultant

Families have a wealth of knowledge to share, particularly about their language, culture, home life, and of course, their child. Research shows that strong home-school connections are related to positive learning and developmental outcomes for children from diverse backgrounds.

Building upon the understanding that multilingual families bring significant assets of language and culture to enrich the school and community, in this workshop we will explore best practices to build parent engagement and involvement and learn strategies to support communication with multilingual families that is frequent, ongoing, and responsive to families' needs, even if you do not speak the home language. Together we will plan ways to build strong home-school relationships with the families in your district.

OBJECTIVES

- Learn tips for engaging families of multilingual learners as active partners in their child's learning.
- Explore considerations for strengthening family engagement practices and building relationships with families.
- Review various free forms of technology that can be used to communicate with families in multiple languages.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

- Any teachers and staff working with multilingual learners
- Paraeducators supporting multilingual learners
- Guidance counselors
- Program coordinators and directors
