CESA #2 Statewide Title I Network Professional Development Series - Spring 2012

CESA #2 Statewide Title I Network provides Title I teachers, special education teachers and their classroom teacher counterparts professional development that focuses on discovering the needs of the lowest achieving students and providing evidenced-based strategies to meet those needs. Sponsored by a grant from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, Title I and School Support, this spring's series will cover writing, math and literacy, with a focus on noticing student behaviors so that the Title I teacher and her classroom partners know what the student is conveying to them about which next-step instructional strategies will be needed. Our special kick-off presenter is Traits Writing author, Ruth Culham. Other presenters include Dr. Ginny Pease, UW-Whitewater's assistant professor of math education and Dr. Karen Ruffner, UW-Platteville's assistant professor of reading and language arts. All three have excellent classroom experience as well as in-depth content knowledge to share. Bring teams of colleagues to these excellent professional development opportunities.
