WISCONSIN ALTERNATE ASSESSMENT FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES TRAINING

During the 2009-2010 school year, the Wisconsin Alternate Assessment for Students with Disabilities will be administered during the same testing window as the WKCE. Special education teachers, who are required to administer the WAA-SwD, must complete training in order to administer this assessment correctly.

Three half-day training sessions are being offered for special education teachers who will be administering the WAA-SwD for the first time. Special education teachers who would benefit from an opportunity to attend another training session are also invited to attend. Teachers will be introduced to the Wisconsin Extended Grade Band Standards and Performance Descriptors. They will also learn the procedures that must be followed for the administration of the Wisconsin Alternate Assessment for Students with Disabilities.

Three training sessions will be offered by CESA 5:

Tired of making all of your own curriculum materials? Searching for suggestions for improving student performance on the WAA-SwD? Wondering what new materials are available for students with cognitive disabilities or autism? The new WAA-SwD Activity List will be introduced during this session as a tool to guide your instruction for students required to take the WAA-SwD. Additionally, you will have an opportunity to view research-based, academic curriculum specifically written for students taking alternative assessments. A representative from Attainment Company will be available to answer all of your questions and present a variety of different academic, vocational, and life-skills curriculums for you to review.

Presenter: Attainment Company Representative
