Educators, Administrators and anyone wanting to learn more about Instructional Technology – Come one, come all!

Making learning more efficient and effective requires the skills to use tools to help all students learn! Join educators from all over the state for the 1st annual appFest. A collaborative effort by local school districts, CESAs and higher education to bring all platforms or instructional technology under one roof. Opportunities to learn about Google apps, the iOS operating system apps for the iPad, web based tools and theories and implementation strategies of mobile devices that can help to enhance educator effectiveness. Learn about the skills, take time to apply those new skills and tools to your profession and be inspired by the presenters, facilitators, each other and Will Richardson (www.willrichardson.com)!

appFest 1 – it is just the beginning!

Will Richardson, a parent and former educator with over 22 years experience, has worked with over 10,000 educators around the world about the merits of online learning networks for personal and professional growth. He is a member of the advisory board for the George Lucas Foundation and an author of Blogs, Wikis, Podcasts and Other Powerful Web Tools for Classrooms (2010), Personal Learning Networks: Using the Power of Connections to Transform Education (2011), and Learning on the Blog (2011).

Cost $285 – includes conference fees, mobile device loaner (if needed), and breakfast and lunch every day.

Credits are available through Marian University. Credit costs are $125 each (sign up for credits the first day of class) and $250 for 2 credits (50% reduced price).
