

Unraveling the Curriculum Decision-Making Process

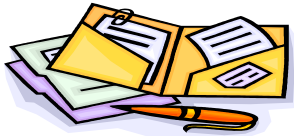

Friday, November 13, 2009
 9:00 AM - 3:00 PM
 CESA #3, Fennimore, Wisconsin

This one-day session will investigate the curriculum decision-making process. Participants will gain an understanding of curriculum design principles, processes, and practices that are aligned with standards-led educational reform. Emphasis will be placed upon answering your questions pertaining to curriculum development at the district level.

Who should attend?

- Superintendents
- Principals
- Curriculum Directors
- District Assessment Coordinators
- Pupil Services Directors
- Lead Teachers

What should you bring?

- ☐ Curriculum Template
- ☐ Sample Curriculum
- ☐ Outline of Your District's Curriculum Revision Process

Workshop participants will:

- ◆ Explore the curriculum development process
- ◆ Investigate the planning considerations associated with the curriculum decision-making process
- ◆ Assess the results and challenges of standards-based reform
- ◆ Investigate the four major curriculum design models used for curriculum construction
- ◆ Compare and contrast the 7 content designs used for curriculum development
- ◆ Explain various methods for embedding the standards into the curriculum
- ◆ Summarize the essential elements that should be included in prototypical curriculum
- ◆ Identify curriculum construction questions that are associated with outcomes, assessments, and criteria
- ◆ Analyze the curriculum development practices and decision-making processes employed in your district
- ◆ Value the need for designing a workable and usable curriculum document

Unraveling the Curriculum Decision-Making Process Registration Form

Registration is required by November 9th

This workshop is offered at no charge to CESA #3 Instructional Services members. The Non-Member fee is $150 per person which includes materials and lunch.

District	Name	Title	Phone Number

Fee Enclosed: $150 Non-Member fee (checks payable to CESA #3)
 Return registration form to the attention of Diane Alm, Fax : (608) 822-3828
 Mail: CESA #3, 1300 Industrial Drive, Fennimore, WI 53809 or e-mail: dalm@cesa3.k12.wi.us