

Greetings, Systems Coaching Training Participants!

October 5, 2012 - Stoney Creek Grand Lodge and Conference Center in Wausau

December 13, 2012 – Radisson Milwaukee North Shore in Milwaukee

December 14, 2012 – UW Parkside in Kenosha

January 28, 2013 – CESA #11 in Turtle Lake

Each session will begin at 8:30 and will end by 3:00. Registration and continental breakfast will be available at 8:00. Participation in either a Wisconsin RtI Center Foundational Overview Training or PBIS C100 New Coaches Orientation is a prerequisite for participation in Systems Coaching training. If you have not already participated in one of these trainings, please visit the RtI Center website (www.wisconsinrticenter.org) or the PBIS Network website (www.wisconsinpbisnetwork.org) for information on dates and locations for these trainings. They will be offered in a number of locations this fall. If at all possible, please try to attend one of these trainings prior to the second session of Systems Coaching training in early November. We will use the data from work done during the FOT or C100 training, along with your school or district's goal and action plan, during sessions 2 and 3. Attached to this email is an article from the New Yorker magazine entitled "Personal Best: Top athletes and singers have coaches. Should you?" Please read this article prior to our first session in October. Reflect on and be ready to share your responses to these questions:

What "big ideas" did you take away from this article?

How does the author's experience with coaching reflect what you would like to have happen in your school/district?

What do you agree with/disagree with in this article?

I look forward to meeting you and working with you in the months ahead.

Regards,
Heidi Laabs
