

iPads to Assist the Struggling Student

January 11, 2013

Did you purchase an iPad for your struggling student and hope that it would help and it hasn't? Are you at a loss as to what exactly an iPad is supposed to do to help your child learn? The right application can help your student focus on homework, classwork and better communicate and collaborate with other students and with their teachers.

Tara Beau, CESA#3, will provide multiple applications to support students who are struggling in your classroom. This workshop would be appropriate for ELL teachers as well as Title 1, Special Education and Classroom teachers who are looking for that "way" to reach the student who just didn't get it the first time.

You are invited to attend an event on Friday, January 11, 2013, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at CESA #3. You will also get a chance to collaborate with other school districts regarding learning opportunities.

You are welcome to bring your own iPad, however, if you don't have an iPad, one can be provided for you. Space and equipment is limited to the first 30 registrants. See the chart below for pricing.

To register go to <http://login.myquickreg.com/event/event.cfm?eventid=4844>.

Contact Brad Brogley, bbrogley@cesa3.k12.wi.us or 608-822-2143 with questions.

Free to ELL Teachers and Coordinators and teachers who support ELL students as a service of the CESA #3 Title III Consortium	Free to Title I Coordinators/Teachers as part of the Statewide Title I Network.	Other interested teachers, administrators and school personnel can attend for $50.