

Math Center 2012-13

Tuesday, September 25, 2012 ■ 8:30 a.m.—3 p.m.

Presenter: Mary Ann Hudziak
CESA 6 Coordinator of Math & Science

Network Description

The Math Center goal is to improve student learning through best practices in mathematics. The Common Core Math standards call for a deeper understanding of math concepts to deliver instruction at all levels. The Math Center will provide professional development designed to be an ongoing process to improve mathematics instruction at the classroom level.

Network Objectives

- Building content expertise for instruction
- Focusing on teacher metacognition in regard to data analysis and teacher feedback to students
- Reflecting on high quality classroom mathematics instruction
- Accessing on-line teacher resources for technology integration
- Reviewing and revising existing district curricula as appropriate to align with the Common Core State Standards
- Participating in facilitated network time for teachers to share classroom practices, resources, materials and ideas
- Building strong relationships within the cohort of teachers
- Fostering leadership at the building or district level for mathematics instruction
- Supporting a continuous improvement model at the classroom, building and district levels

Who should attend?
