

Reviewing K-5 Universal Reading Instruction Three-Day Team-Based Session

This universal reading instructional review increases the capacity of school teams by improving K-5 reading instruction, while connecting the systemic approach to universal level reading instruction within a Response to Intervention (RtI) framework.

Audience

- This training is designed for schools teams that include K-5 grade level teachers, reading instructors/specialists, literacy coaches, special educators, instructional leaders, and building administrators. Registration will be capped at 50 participants.
- A school team must be accompanied by a school leader/principal
- School teams of three or more are required to attend all three days of the training.

Outcomes

- Understand the need for a strong systemic foundation built upon common beliefs on reading instruction and the Common Core State Standards.
- Review and outline the five components from the National Reading Panel and other instructional components: phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, comprehension, vocabulary, instructional time, instructional grouping, and universal classroom environment
- Understand the effectiveness of systemic best practice in universal reading instruction.
- Investigate and discuss high quality systemic universal reading instruction as it relates to the WI-RtI framework.
- Action Plan to improve your school's universal level reading instruction K-5.

Preparation

- Participants should bring documentation of their current reading programs, practices, and strategies used to deliver K-5 universal reading instruction.

Cost
