

Making RTI Workable

CESA #4 and Renaissance Learning cordially invite you to this important RTI Workshop.

December 5, 2012 • West Salem, Wisconsin

Edward S. Shapiro, Ph.D.

Keynote Speaker:
RTI Expert Edward S. Shapiro, Ph.D.

Edward S. Shapiro, Ph.D. is professor of school psychology and director of the Center for Promoting Research to Practice in the College of Education at Lehigh University. He has authored or co-authored 10 books.

Topic: a closer look at Computer Adaptive Tests (CAT) and Curriculum-Based Measurement (CBM)—making RTI progress monitoring more manageable and effective.

Opening remarks by Dr. Alexa Posny, former Assistant Secretary at U.S. Department of Education, currently Senior Vice President at Renaissance Learning.

Who should attend?

We recommend a two-person team from your school or district that ideally includes an administrator.

CESA #4
Wednesday, December 5, 2012
923 E. Garland St.
West Salem, WI 54669

Schedule
8:30 a.m. - Registration/Breakfast
9:00 a.m. - Keynote: Making RTI Workable
11:30 a.m. - Lunch
1:00 p.m. - Working Session
3:00 p.m. - Conclusion

No charge to attend. Complimentary breakfast and lunch will be served.

Register for this event at www.cesa4.k12.wi.us

Questions? Contact Julie Jensen at (800) 514-3075 or email: jjensen@cesa4.k12.wi.us

