

Building a Digital Learning Environment

May 13, 2013 • 10 am - 3 pm

Presenters:

Jeremy Egger, Systems Engineer • Susan Meyer, Apple Development • Jan Sinclair, Account Executive Apple Inc.

Description

Please join us for a conversation about building successful DLEs/Digital Learning Environments and how digital content is changing education and creating new teaching and learning opportunities.

Innovative Teaching & Learning - Sue Meyer

Experience digital content, including educational apps, Multi-Touch textbooks and dynamic learning resources that are changing the landscape of education.

Critical Success Factors for Successful 1:1 Implementation - Jan Sinclair/Jeremy Egger/Sue Meyer

Designing a successful digital learning environment requires active participation with a visionary learning team.

iTunes U and iBooks Author - Jeremy Egger

For your faculty who want to use iBooks Author to create Multi-Touch books that take learning to a new level of content interactivity and understanding. Participants will gain a fundamental understanding of how to create interactive content and publishing with iBooks Author, focusing on best practices for engagement and learning. Ideas and strategies for leveraging iTunes U courses to enhance learning will also be shared.

iOS Deployment & Management - Jeremy Egger

This session will provide an overview of the important aspects of a successful iOS deployment as well as the new features of iOS6. We will discuss the updated Apple Configurator tool that will help schools to prepare, supervise and assign iOS devices for use in an education setting.
