

Using PALS Data to Drive 4 Year Old Kindergarten, Kindergarten and Grade 1 Instruction

(Viterbo Credit)

CESA #12 Conference Center
Tuesday, November 19, 2013
Registration: 8:30 AM - 9:00 AM
Workshop: 9:00 AM – Noon

Networking and activities with 4-Year Old Kindergarten, Kindergarten and First Grade Teachers

9:00 AM - 12:00 Noon

This workshop will focus on using the Phonological Awareness Literacy Screening (PALS) fall and spring data to drive instruction. Participants are asked to bring the PALS data and samples of instructional plans based on the results. Teachers will engage in collegial conversations focused on improving student learning, reflect on their current practice, and share their success and challenges implementing best literacy practices in their classroom. (We will separate by grade levels.)

12:00 – 12:30 PM

Lunch

12:30-3:30 PM

We will join together for a networking session with all that attend. We will discuss how we can collaborate, share useful data for planning purposes and how we can incorporate this literacy screening tool in our programs. We will also discuss how to implement developmentally appropriate literacy strategies into the curriculums.
