

Grouping Strategies for the Elementary Classroom

This workshop series is broken into grade-appropriate two day sessions

September 29, 2010 and November 29, 2010 is for grades K-2

September 30, 2010 and November 30, 2010 is for grades 3-5

Presenter: Mary Lou Manske is an energetic presenter who will inspire you to return to the classroom with a sense of excitement about the importance of writing in the curriculum. Her fast-paced, literature-rich workshop will model strategies and instructional practices that enrich and support writing and thinking across the curriculum.

Award-winning teacher and co-owner of the Book Look in Stevens Point.

Ability grouping is the most common strategy used to work with students in small groups; however, there are many more options available for teachers. This workshop series will focus on grouping options for the elementary classroom using multiple data points. *Participants are asked to indicate the reading assessments used in their districts when registering so that this workshop can be tailored to individual needs. In addition to local assessments, other assessment measures will be introduced, as well as how these tools can be used to group students to move them forward, regardless of their ability.
