Your current fall PALS data will be used to form core instructional literacy groups. In addition you will gather important diagnostic information about your students to form intervention groups within your RtI system. Both the Electronic Lesson Plans and PALS Quick Checks will be reviewed. Time will be provided for discussing and writing instructional plans as well as networking with other districts. Discussion will also take place about how to share this data with your district data team.

Audience: First grade classroom teachers, Title I teachers, special education teachers, ELL teachers, reading specialists and literacy coaches and coordinators are welcome to attend.

NOTE: Participants should bring a laptop computer to access PALS data. PALS data from the fall administration should be entered into the Online System prior to the workshop.
